Kidnap Gangs of Institution; Two Are Hurt in Running Revolver Battle With Farmers and Deputies' Poses

CITE THAW FLIGHT

Connecticut Authorities Release Captives Upon Learning of Precedent Set by Vermont Several Years Ago

Poughkeepsie, April 11.—The freedom of four patients who escaped this morning from Matteawan State hospital for the criminal insane, was at an end.

Two of them were under guard in a hospital here with leg wounds received in a revolver battle with posse near Kent, Conn.

The others are Marquis Curtis, 47, convicted of feloniously possessing explosives and unlawfully possessing firearms, and John Coffey, 25, New York, convicted of first degree grand larceny.

The four escaped from the hospital by overpowering their guards, procuring keys to corridors, capturing attendants whom they encountered and forcing a chauffeur to start a car in the hospital garage, in which they fled to the north.

The wounded men are John Hawkins, New York, convicted of first degree burglary, and the others are Marquis Curtis, 47, convicted of feloniously possessing explosives and unlawfully possessing firearms, and John Coffey, 25, New York, convicted of first degree grand larceny.

Phone Calls Assemble Poses. Telephone messages relayed along the route followed by the quartet called out farmers in large numbers who organized the impromptu posse, one of which cornered the four in an abandoned railroad car at Kent.

At 4 o'clock this morning, when the quartet dropped the three keepers and chauffeur two miles north of here an alarm was being spread up and down the valley. The car in which the escape was made was found at 27 miles east of here, this morning.

WITCH IN SALE OF SHIPPING CRAFT

Canada Objects to Change in Contract to Prevent Use of Ships as Run Runners

(By the Associated Press) Washington, April 11.—Shipping complications of an extended character between the United States and Great Britain and her dominions are regarded here as not improbable as a result of a controversy between the Washington and Ottawa governments over two small vessels on the Great Lakes.

The ships were purchased from the shipping board under contracts which stipulated that they should not be used in any manner which would violate the laws of the United States and for that reason they were refused registry by the Canadian government. The particular language contained in the contracts and held objectionable by the Canadian government, apparently with the backing of London, was drafted by the department of justice to prevent any purchases of shipping board vessels from using them as run runners.

The Canadian authorities notified Secretary Hughes that they could not admit ships to Canadian registry which were subject to domestic laws of the United States.

An answer to the Canadian note, handed to Sir Auckland Geddes for transmission to the Ottawa government, contains a defense of the language employed by the shipping board and clearly states that the restrictions imposed on operators of crafts bought from the board are legal and enforceable from the American point of view.

DISHONESTY ON BIG SCALE PREDICTED

O'Ryan Believes Most of Veterans' Bureau Trouble in Underpaid Employees Handling Money

Washington, April 11.—Disclosure of "dishonesty on a pretty big scale here and there," in the past handling of Veterans' bureau's affairs was predicted today by Major General John F. O'Ryan, special counsel for the senate investigating committee, who said he based his statements on a preliminary survey.

On the other hand, he declared, he was impressed with the conscientious efforts made in many directions to bring about a better handling of the bureau's affairs.

General O'Ryan expects the committee to begin hearings next week.

BIG UPROAR IN BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS

Scenes Resolved One of Days of Paralytic Obstruction; Ordinarily Quiet Body Turned Into Bedlam

SING "RED FLAG"

Labor's National Anthem Heard in Chamber for First Time; Epithets Against Treasury Bench

(By the Associated Press) London, April 11.—Perhaps never since the days of Parnellite obstruction has such a scene of violent uproar been witnessed in the house of commons as that which today transpired the ordinarily placid and dignified chamber into an absolute bedlam.

The disorders arose primarily out of the defeat sustained by the government by a small majority on a mere technical point last night. Today, Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced a motion framed to counteract this defeat, only to meet with a storm unexampled in present day parliamentary annals.

Amid the general uproar from the labor benches was heard the singing of the "Red Flag." It was the first time the chamber of the "mother of parliaments" ever echoed with the familiar words and tune of what is recognized as labor's national anthem.

The Laborites clearly felt that they had a big stick to wield against the government in the interest of ex-service men, which was the question before the house. In this attitude the Labor members are likely to receive the support of the whole Laborite electorate.

All sorts of epithets and threatening gestures against the treasury bench came from the Laborites, especially from the small extreme group, including the Scottish members led by John Joseph Jones and George Lansbury.

Yesterday's scene, was crowded. The speaker from time to time vainly appealed to the better feelings of the members, but was completely unable to stem the disorders.

RAIL TRAFFIC CONTINUES TO TOUCH NEW RECORDS

Washington, April 11.—Railroad traffic volume, which has set new records in successive weeks this year, touched a still higher mark, on the basis of returns compiled by the car service division of the American Railroad Association, during the week ending March 31, when 248,725 cars were loaded with revenue freight.

This total exceeded loadings of the corresponding week in 1922 by 116,817 cars, and the same week of 1921 by 275,557 cars.

The car service division indicated in a further statement that carriers were increasing their capacity to handle business. On March 21, the freight car shortage amounted to 66,935 cars, which was 2,477 cars less than the shortage reported on March 22.

DELAWARE COUNTY PRISONER ESCAPES ALBANY PRISON

Albany, April 11.—Austin Browning, 49, sentenced to Albany prison from Delaware county for larceny, escaped from the prison farm at Bennett early today, and despite an all day search had not been found tonight. Browning was received at the prison November 22, with a sentence of from three to six years.

ACQUITS STUDENT OF MURDER CHARGE

Middleton States He Shot Watchman on U. of Ky. Campus Only After Later Fired

Lexington, Ky., April 11.—Warren Middleton, Paducah, Ky., University of Kentucky student, was acquitted of a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of Joseph Self, university night watchman, by a jury in circuit court here late tonight. The jury deliberated 30 minutes.

Middleton today took the witness stand in his own defense. He testified that he had shot Self only after the watchman had fired the first shot.

With Middleton at the time of the shooting was Miss Clover Coleman, Paducah, also a student at the school. The shooting occurred on the university campus on the night of February 10, last.

Middleton testified that the trouble started when he stopped his automobile on the university campus to wipe snow from the windshield. Self appeared and demanded in rough language that he get out of the car. After refusing to get out, Middleton stated he attempted to start the car and Self began shooting. One bullet struck him in the left arm and lodged in his body and a second entered his side. He then shot Self, he said.

NO PEACE SIGHTED YET FOR IRELAND

De Valera Not Among Captives; Free State Executes Six More for Carrying Arms

(By the Associated Press) Dublin, April 11.—Official contradiction by Free State army headquarters this afternoon of reports that Eamon deValera had been captured near Clonmel, brought statements in Republican quarters tonight that the irregular leader was not a member of the party surrounded by Free State troops when Liam Lynch was captured.

Some declared that deValera was not in the district at the time, but instead was attending a meeting in Dublin, but all reports in regard to his whereabouts are trustworthy.

The capture and fatal wounding of Lynch, who was the Republican chief of staff, excited speculation of immediate peace, but there is no indication as yet of any change in the attitude of the Republic or of the government, the latter continuing to insist upon the absolute surrender of all arms.

The execution today at Tullin of six more Republicans for possession of arms is pointed to as evidence that the authorities firmly intend to continue all measures they believe necessary to restore order throughout the country.

HOOVER WANTS U. S. MEMBER WORLD COURT

"Essential Step" in Direction of Peace; International Relations on Basis of Law Instead of Force

NO LEAGUE ENTRY

Enforcement Rests Wholly on Public Opinion; Can Not Be Called Into Court Unless Willing to Go

Des Moines, Ia., April 11.—American membership in the permanent court of international justice, organized by the League of Nations, was advocated by Secretary Hoover here tonight at an important step in the direction of world peace.

Those who have opposed membership in the league itself, he said, need not hang back from participation in the court nor feel political entanglements through its operation.

Secretary Hoover spoke before the annual convention of the National League of Women Voters and his address was the first detailed reply from administration quarters to those who have assailed the court proposal since it was laid before the senate by President Harding.

To go into court, Mr. Hoover said, would not be "entering the league in any sense." On the contrary, he argued, it would aid in placing international relations on a basis of law rather than politics and would at the same time continue the American policy at conciliation and good will developed in the arms conference and in recent relations with Latin America.

No Entry to League. "The proposals to join the court," he said, "have been criticized from various angles. The first is that it leads us into some undue political entanglement. This is untrue, for the decrees of international court are based upon the process of the law, not upon political agreement; the enforcement rests wholly on public opinion and not upon force. In supporting this court we subscribe to no compulsion whatever. Compulsion is, in fact, specifically excluded. We are not entering the league in any sense."

No other action can summon us into court except with our consent. The court itself cannot summon us, nor in any degree exert upon us any kind of compulsion, not even moral. Our proposal to enter the court and our act of adherence to it which President Harding has asked, is based upon the assumption that compulsion is not necessary for peoples of good will and a sense of justice."

HARDING WILL ATTEMPT TO STRAIGHTEN TARIFF TANGLE

Washington, April 11.—President Harding will attempt soon to straighten out the tangle in the tariff commission growing out of the variance of opinion among members as to procedure under flexible provisions of the tariff law. Mr. Harding has made a tentative engagement to confer with the commission members Friday and indications today pointed to a thorough inquiry by the executive into the controversy which has held the commission almost in a deadlock for some months.

The question of the commission's investigation into the sugar situation, long made at the President's request, also will be discussed at the White House conference. Chairman Martin, of the commission, said he expected to have the commission's preliminary statement on the investigation in the hands of the President by tomorrow night. The report to be made at this time will be largely statistical, but will serve, it was declared, to affirm the President's reported belief that the import duties in the present tariff law have had no influence on sugar.

MUST DELAY ACTION ON WARD INQUIRY

Justice Staley Withholds Decision on Injunction; Use of Cablegrams Prohibited

Albany, April 11.—State court Justice E. L. Staley today reserved decision on an application by lawyers representing Walter S. Wood, New Rochelle, and the Western Union Telegraph company for an injunction restraining Attorney General Carl Sherman from obtaining copies of certain cablegrams to be used as evidence in the state's investigation of the alleged slaying of Clarence Peters, Haverhill, Mass., youth, at the hands of Ward last May.

The cablegrams passed between Ward's father and brother and were believed to have contained evidence to a blackmail plot which Ward's counsel put forth as one of the reasons for Peters' death.

An injunction similar to the one sought today was issued in New York recently by Supreme Court Justice W. C. M. Wood, but was set aside by an order from the appellate division yesterday on the grounds that it had been issued in the wrong way, because counsel for the state had not submitted preliminary arguments. Justice Staley directed that both sides submit briefs by next Wednesday.

In the meantime, even if the attorney general's staff obtains the copies of the cablegrams, Justice Staley directed, they are not to be placed in evidence nor are they to be made public. This direction was made at the request of Deputy Attorney General Wilbur W. Chambers, who acted for the state. He asked that the court give some ruling on the matter so there might be no further charges that the state was proceeding illegally.

ABOLISHMENT OF WAR ADVOCATED

Conference Would Create Code of International Law on Basis of Equity and Right

(By the Associated Press) Des Moines, April 11.—The abolition of war as a legal system was advocated and the methods by which it might be accomplished were discussed by Judge Florence E. Allen, of the Ohio supreme court, speaking here tonight before the National League of Women Voters.

The steps proposed by Judge Allen to accomplish this are: That war be outlawed and declared a crime under the law of nations, and that its use as a means of settlement of disputes be abolished.

That a conference of civilized nations be held for the creation and codification of international law on the basis of equity and right.

That a court be established with jurisdiction over all purely international disputes as defined by the international code.

KEEPING BOOKS ON OCCUPATION COSTS IN RUHR

Items Show Germany Is Paying Enough to Others and Losing Enough Trade to Have Met All Reparations Due

FRENCH LOSE MUCH

Production Failure Largest Item of Either Side in Controversy; Allies Direct Loss 441,000,000 Francs

(By the Associated Press) Paris, April 11.—The economic situation attached to the reparations commission are keeping books on the cost to Germany on one hand, and to France and Belgium on the other, of the occupation of the Ruhr. Confirmed studies are being made of the direct and indirect losses to both the economic belligerents and to their neighbors.

The French experts are particularly interested in Germany's cash outlays for her program of passive resistance. These are dealt with under several monthly headings, such as her average monthly imports of 1,600,000 tons of coal, at from 22 to 35 gold marks a ton, or roughly 50,000,000 gold marks. This average is struck upon the actual importation and prospective requirements of Germany.

Other items are the payment of half wages to some hundreds of thousands of workmen in the Ruhr, the losses to the German export trade, which is the most difficult category to deal with at present, owing to the inadequate figures, and the losses to Germany's internal trade.

Germany's Expenses Heavy. These calculations satisfy the French that the German government is spending in actual cash abroad and in her reduced income of foreign money, sufficient to have met the cash reparations payments under the Cuneo agreement of 40,000,000 gold marks monthly. The conclusion is reached by these experts that, if Germany were to show the same zeal in making payments as in resisting them, she would have been able to continue meeting the Cuneo's program. On the other hand of the balance sheet it is figured that the three months' cost of occupation to Germany is 441,000,000 francs.

The economic loss to the entire world is calculated in round numbers at 5,000,000,000 francs for the three months' period. The exact figures are difficult to fix because the real losses in the disturbances of economic conditions rather than money actually expended in connection with the Ruhr operations, and one of the principal factors is the uncertainty of the situation.

The largest loss, the experts say, is that of lost production.

INVESTIGATE STATEMENTS OF BOOTLEG PRACTICE

New York, April 11.—Two investigations, one by the district attorney, and another by the municipal commissioner of accounts, were begun today into Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier's reported speech at Albany denouncing Police Commissioner Egan, and his force for being, respectively, "in league with the bootleggers" and "bootleggers' agents."

J. H. Banton, district attorney, began his inquiry by calling upon Cuvillier to prevent the evidence upon which the charges are based, as a preliminary to prosecutions.

THE NEWS AT WESTESTER.

Hapsist township school board meets Monday evening. Most interesting affair.

Westester, April 11.—One of the pleasant events of the season was enjoyed by the members of the Hapsist Sunday school last evening, the occasion being a banquet, arranged and served by the men.

The children of the Elementary department were waited upon at 6:30 o'clock and then spent the evening with games in the upper room. At 7:30 the other members of the school were seated around tables in the parlors, which were decorated with ferns and bouquets. An appetizing four-course dinner was then served interspersed by orchestra music and singing.

The toastmaster, T. P. Johnson, teacher of the men's class, then took charge and issued his opening remarks on "A Cheerful Countenance," emphasizing the thought of the face being a reflection of the heart.

Among toasts that followed was "Our Ambition," very ably given by the superintendent of the school, Lee H. Cummings. The great ambition is to teach and memorize the scripture. The pastor, Rev. Merle Isenberg, spoke on the subject "What is it to You?" laying special emphasis on the thought of team work. "The Silent Partner," a mostly humorous eulogy to the women, was given by Miss R. Kniffen, assistant superintendent. Rev. C. H. Wolcott, pastor of the Baptist church at Canastota, gave a very stirring address on "Strictly Business," in which he inspired those present to make a business of their religion and to take religion into their business.

Rev. L. A. Duren, pastor of the Methodist church of Schenectady, was in charge of the singing, and also sang two beautiful solos—"Lullaby," from Joelany, and "The Little Cottage," which were greatly enjoyed by all. Miss Florence Starkweather charmingly sang "A Spring Song." She was accompanied by John Kniffen, violinist.

Several selections were rendered by the Sunday School orchestra, which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

Much appreciation is due the gentlemen who so ably conducted the affairs of the evening and the ladies are hoping they will make it at least an annual affair.

You Pay Taxes on Swamp Land!

UNPRODUCTIVE land costs you money two ways— you pay taxes on acreage producing no revenue. Probably some of your neighbors are in the same boat.

But many farmers are finding out that land under water can be made to pay a profit by ditching the du Pont way—a quick, out-of-season job that is inexpensive and pays real dividends.

Du Pont low-freezing straight dynamite makes ditching cheaper, easier and quicker. Right now is the time to drain your land and put it to work. See us—we'll give you all necessary information and instructions about ditching and land-clearing—and quick delivery.

WILBER ESTATE PROCEEDINGS

MAKING SLOW PROGRESS WITH ATTORNEYS CONTENDING MAINLY

Examination of First Witness in Action Brought by Mrs. Flora Lyon Against Wilber Bank Not Completed in Day's Hearing.

"There need be no doubt in the mind of the public relative to the time of the payment of any of the legacies under the will of the late Mr. Wilber if they await the outcome of the proceedings now being conducted before Surrogate Close, for it will be more than five years," was the comment of an observer at the close of the hearing yesterday at the chambers of Surrogate Close.

At 6 o'clock, after 4½ hours had been consumed, adjournment was taken until this morning at 10 o'clock, at which time Surrogate Close will rule upon the admission or rejection of the power of attorney given by David F. Wilber to David A. Diefendorf, which Attorney Hayward had offered in evidence and to which the attorneys for the bank objected strenuously as in no way connected with the administration of the affairs of the estate by the bank.

The day was consumed largely in arguments between attorneys and in objections to the admission of evidence and in motions to strike out after evidence had been given. Attorney Hayward for the proceeding had pitted against him Alva Seybolt, attorney for the bank as executor, former Surrogate Stratton of counsel for the bank, and Attorney Owen C. Becker, representing the Potter estate and also, the arguments indicated, attorney for Hon. D. F. Wilber. Occasionally there was a bit of sparring between attorneys to enliven the proceedings, but in the main it was largely devoted to details of actions by the bank as executor in handling the affairs of the estate.

President Albert B. Tobey was the first witness called by Mr. Hayward and the inventory of the estate was offered in evidence. Mr. Wilber owned 167 shares of the bank at the time of his death, Mr. Tobey stated, and later 10 shares were sold to L. E. Wilber, at about the time he became a director of the bank. Alva Seybolt was engaged as attorney for the trustee on July 18 last at an annual salary of $5,000. David A. Diefendorf was engaged to assist the executor in the management of the estate at a salary of $5,000, dating from July 1, 1922.

Dividends from the 6,403 shares of D. & H. stock have been received and deposited either in the Wilber National bank or the Chase National bank of New York city. Payments on legacies have been made to Misses Ella and Anna Cuck, F. J. Rider, Helen Patterson and Geo. R. Shaffer on annuities.

At this point Mr. Tobey stepped aside and Lewis F. Rose, assistant cashier, took the stand, being more familiar with the details as one of the trust officers of the bank. He testified that there have been paid to David Forest Wilber the following sums, $2,250, $8,240 and $78,168.17, the latter being a claim that he held against the estate. It is assumed from the estate of Mrs. Margaret Wilber, the mother of the brother.

An interesting fact as to the ready cash available of George I. Wilber was the statement that he had on deposit in the Wilber National bank at the time of his death $29,492.80, in the New York City branch of New York $55,844.62, and certificates of deposit in the Wilber National bank which with interest amounted to $235,794.21.

The witness was examined at length upon the payment of the claim of S. H. Potter, now deceased, of $45,000, which claim and receipt were offered in evidence. In this connection it was shown that the salary of Mr. Potter as cashier in January, 1914, was $2,500; in 1915 it was increased to $2,800; in 1916 to $3,000, and in 1920 to $4,000. On Aug. 7th, 1922, after the death of Mr. Wilber, it was increased to $5,000 annually.

Efforts of Mr. Hayward to secure particulars of the transfer of a portion of the Union block from the bank to Attorney Seybolt from Witness Rose were fruitless, as the latter knew nothing of the details of the transaction. Relative to the sale of 125 shares of the stock of the Ontario Union Agricultural company to D. F. Keyes, a stockholder of the bank, witness knew nothing except what the resolution passed by the bank directors disclosed, i. e., that the shares brought $48,750, or $355 a share.

When the claim of D. F. Wilber for $78,168.17 against the estate was reached, Attorney Hayward had the witness read into his evidence from the bill the fact that the claim was attested by David A. Diefendorf representing the estate, who signed the voucher and that he later endorsed the check as attorney for David F. Wilber.

When the power of attorney given by David F. Wilber to David A. Diefendorf was offered in evidence, the attorneys for the bank and others objected and when the arguments were finished court was adjourned until this morning, at which time Surrogate Close said he would rule upon the admission of the paper.

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS

Track Squad Working Frantically for Chance of Success — September Meeting of Ontario — September Meeting for Girls Club Contest.

Coach A. S. Rely has a squad of over 30 candidates working frantically for places on the team which will represent O. H. S. on the track and in the field this spring. The boys are working out several times weekly on the fair grounds and several are already developing a form that augurs ill for their opponents.

But few men have been lost from the team that made such a creditable showing last year. Charles, one of the best school boy sprinters in this section of the state, will be the mainstay in the sprint events and will also compete in the jumps. Bush is available for the half mile, Mollinari to regard as a corner in the sprints, and Lewis is being counted upon to place in the middle distances. However, still again compete in the distance runs. Dillelo and Targart are among the men relied upon to make good in the pole vault, an event weakened by the loss this year of Homstreet and McGuiness.

All in all it looks as though the school would have a well balanced track team this year, a team that is certain to make a showing in the state interscholastic meet.

At a meeting after school yesterday afternoon the Sophomore class elected chairmen of the committees which will arrange for the annual reception to be given in the school gymnasium on Friday evening, April 20. The committee chairmen are: Refreshments, Vesta Chamberlain; music, Virginia Canfield; decorating, Albert Vallee; amusements, Alice Orcutt.

Glee Club Concert.

Frequent rehearsals are being held by the Boys' Glee club and the Girls' chorus for the High school Glee club concert which will be held in the school auditorium on Friday evening, April 27. An interesting program has been prepared which will contain numbers with an appeal for all. The clubs have unusually good talent this year and it is expected that the concert will be the best ever given by the organizations.

Narrow Escape at D. H. Shop.

Marshall Cole of Sidney, who is working at the D. & H. shops, had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon when one of the large motor drills caught in the coat of his work clothes and drew his neck against the drill, and removed a sizable piece of flesh from the throat.

He was taken to the Fox Memorial hospital where the wound was dressed. Several stitches were necessary to replace the flesh, but Mr. Cole was able to take the evening train to Sidney, feeling no serious ill effects, except perhaps a quail at the thought of the narrow escape, since had he been drawn a little further into the drill his throat veins would have been severed.

Veteran Firemen's Banquet.

The members of the Veteran Firemen's association, with a few friends, in all a party of fifty, sat down last evening to a dinner at which there were served tender young pig pork, roasted to a turn, delicious rolls, mashed potatoes and brown gravy, celery, pickles and onion, hard cakes and coffee. All were delighted with the repast, and Mrs. E. R. Barnes and Mrs. O. D. Sissum, who had the preparation in charge, well deserved all the compliments which were showered upon them.

Following the dinner a business meeting was held, at which five new members of the association were elected.

D. A. R. Meeting Postponed.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS WEEK

Excellent Work Planned by County S. P. A. C. — What "The Little Paper" Does — Free Quizzes in April Issue.

This week has been set aside as "Be Kind to Animals Week," and next Sunday is designated as "Humane Sunday" with the idea that special attention will be given to promoting the humane treatment of dumb animals.

Perhaps no county is giving more attention the year round to this sort of work than is Otego through the instrumentality of the S. P. C. A., of which Mrs. W. T. Hyde is agent, says the Freeman's Journal of this week. The work and its results as carried on are too well known to warrant any extensive review of the activities in this article, though we believe that what is perhaps the most important feature of the society's work, is not generally understood. That is the work among the children.

The local society, at considerable expense to itself and only a nominal charge to the children, publishes monthly, and has for about two years, "The Little Paper," with a circulation of over 2,000 copies. The paper is ably edited by Miss Elizabeth Patterson, and the expense of getting out the issues is a part of the philanthropy of the society.

These papers are going into every community in the county and as a part of observance of this week we would suggest that those not familiar with the "Little Paper" endeavor to procure a copy and see the splendid, wholesome material that appears, and the wonderful appeal that is being made to the younger citizens of the county along the line of kindness to dumb animals.

The April issue, which is being mailed this week, contains a prize animal story written by Mary Elizabeth Robinson of Richfield Springs who is 12 years of age and who was awarded last year a prize for her article in a contest just concluded. Other prizes in the contest were awarded to Irene Davis of Hartwick, Beatrice Radin Johnson of Laurens and Beatrice Briscoll of Ontario.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles HAVE TO GO

Clogged up Kidney Deposits are Discovered and the Toxin (Poison) Completely Driven Out. Druggists Told to Guarantee it in Every Instance.

"Just very ill," says Dr. Carey, "depends upon the perfect functioning and health of your kidneys. No winter job do don't neglect them." Dr. Carey's famous prescription No. 777 (known for years as Marseus) is not recommended for everything, but we cannot too strongly urge its use if you suffer from annoying bladder troubles, frequent passing of water night and day, with smarting or irritation, brick dust sediment or highly colored urine, bloating, irritability with loss of flesh, or any other tendency to Bright's Disease, Diabetes or gravel, for kidney disease in its worst form may be healing upon you. Don't wait until tomorrow to begin the use of this wonderful prescription now obtainable in both liquid and tablet form. If you have any of the above symptoms, kidney and bladder troubles don't wear away. They will grow upon you slowly, stealthily and with unerring certainty. If you even suspect that you are subject to kidney disease, don't lose a single day for it. B. What to Eat and Why

"Proteins" in Your Food Important for Tissue-Building

Two Proteins in our foods are important factors in building and maintaining the body-tissues. We need a certain, definite quantity of Proteins daily from our food—and the quality as well as the quantity of the Proteins is important.

Grape-Nuts includes the excellent Proteins of the wheat, and the supply of Proteins daily from our food is supplemented by the cream or milk with which Grape-Nuts is eaten.

The Proteins in Grape-Nuts are combined with a very desirable form of carbohydrates (the grain starches) which are partially pre-digested through the long, slow baking by which Grape-Nuts is made. In its easy and quick digestion and assimilation Grape-Nuts helps prevent the unfavorable interference which often occurs from other sources of Protein supply and which greatly interfere with nutrition.

Grape-Nuts, with cream or milk, is a complete food, containing phosphorus, iron, calcium and vitamins—elements vitally necessary for the body's needs but often lacking in modern, "refined" foods.

You will find Grape-Nuts wonderfully crisp, savory and appetizing—a delightful part of any meal and an important aid to health and fitness.

Ready to serve from the package—order from your grocer today. Many servings to a package of this genuinely economical food. Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder. "There's a Reason." Made by Postum Cereal Co., Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

SIGNAL FIRES TO TELL OF FLIGHT BY AMUNDSEN

Plans of Explorer for Trip Across the North Pole Said to Be Complete.

Roald Amundsen, the explorer, plans to hop off from Wainwright, on the north coast of Alaska, for his flight across the north pole to Spitzbergen on June 20, or as near thereafter as weather permits.

Because the date cannot be fixed exactly in advance and because preparations for relief if the shipboard meets with disaster in Spitzbergen depend on knowledge of the time of his flight, citizens of Nome, Alaska, and the chamber of commerce have planned a system of signal fires to carry the news of his start from Wainwright to the nearest radio station, 400 miles away.

This plan calls for the stationing of between twenty and thirty parties of two Eskimos each at intervals along the coast from Wainwright, near Point Barrow, to Noorvik on the Kobuk river, north of Bering straits.

Huge bonfires are to be built at intervals of about fifteen miles along the coast, driftwood and coal being used. When Amundsen starts his flight at Wainwright, the bonfire there will be lit. Observers at the succeeding station will be on the watch for the smoke and at sight of it will light their own fire. This will set in motion the chain of signal bonfires.

If the day is clear when Amundsen starts to fly across the pole it is believed the bonfire signals will work without a hitch and relay the news along the coast for 400 miles to Noorvik within a few hours. Even if one or two breakdowns occur and the Eskimos have to make the connections by carrying the signal, it will still be possible to wireless the news from Noorvik in time to give warning at Spitzbergen to the scout planes that are to be there to render assistance if Amundsen meets with trouble on the latter part of his flight.

After the news is sent out from Noorvik by radio it can be relayed by radio, telegraph and cable to Spitzbergen.

Marriage Superstition Proved. The day before that set for her marriage a girl of Leeds, England, laughingly tried on her bridal veil, despite the protests of superstitious friends. Ten minutes later her father came in with the news that her fiancé had met with sudden death in a street accident.

Wild Life in Forest. Forests are the home and breeding grounds of hundreds of millions of birds and game animals which the forests provide with food and shelter, says the American Tree Association. If we had no forests, many of these birds and animals would soon disappear.

Books Revised by 100 Years. The editions of books printed 200 or 300 years ago are almost entirely free from typographical errors, which may be attributed to the fact that the early publishers were generally eminent scholars and themselves gave much attention to the revision of their proofs.

Emerson's Wise Words. Don't be a cynic and disconsolate preacher. Don't bewail and mourn. Omit the negative propositions. Nerve us with incessant affirmatives. Don't waste yourself in rejection, nor bark against the bad, but chant the beauty of the good.—Emerson.

Skeleton Shows Cliff Dwellers Were Dwarfs

Prescott, Ariz.—Scientists who will visit Prescott next summer to attempt to clear the mystery of the ancient cliff dwellings on the Verde river will be asked to give their attention to a skeleton found recently by Morris and Howell Payne, ranchers, living a few miles north of this city.

Although the skeleton is apparently no larger than that of a child of four or five years, the skull contains a fully developed set of mature teeth. The Payne brothers unearthed the skeleton while excavating for a road in Granite Dell, a vast granite formation near Prescott.

The skeleton has excited lively interest on account of the size and the maturity of the teeth and skull bones, which, one physician said, showed none of the evidences of immaturity such as would appear on an infant's cranium.

Prints of the hands of the builders of the well-preserved prehistoric dwelling known as Montezuma's castle are still seen in the molasse mortar holding the stones together, and these prints indicate that the dwellers were persons with very small hands.

The tiny doorways and low ceilings seem to bear out the theory that the people living there were of small stature.

Maryland Has Golden Record. Frederick county, Maryland, produces more goldfish than any other part of America. About 370 acres in the county is given up to this underwater farming, and more than 100,000,000 fish are shipped every year.

2,263 Steps in a Mile.

When a man walks a mile he takes an average of 2,263 steps, but when he rides a bicycle with an average gear, he covers a mile with an equivalent of only 627 steps; less than one-third the number required to walk.

Nature's Laws Supreme. If the gatherer gathers too much, Nature takes out of the man what she puts into his chest; swells the estate, but kills the owner. Nature hates monopolies and exceptions.—Emerson.

Crude Tin Can Still Serves Two in Desert

Tucson, Ariz.—Henry Bode, a mining engineer, and his wife, are in Tucson after a successful fight against the desert region that lies along the eastern shores of the Gulf of California. Their supply of water gave out in the hills, where no springs could be found, while the nearest settlement was several days' travel away.

So, making the shore of the gulf, they improvised a crude distilling apparatus, mainly from a five-gallon oil can and several tomato cans. Thus they obtained enough water for themselves and four horses for ten days. Then the party sighted a small Mexican coastwise trading steamer, which was signaled by the burning of palm branches and which sent a boat to the beach. Return to the United States was by way of the Port of Guaymas.

Hermit's Hoard Is $27,000.

Emporia, Va.—Herman Seeley, an aged hermit, and for months a public charge, died here recently. Preparations were made to bury him in the potter's field and his body was encased in a rude pine box. When authorities visited the shack where the hermit formerly lived and moved his scanty furniture, a box containing over $27,000 in gold and currency was found.

SEE FLEET IN WEIRD MIRAGE

Officers of Steamship in South Australian Waters Witness Extraordinary Sight.

Sydney, N. S. W.—An extraordinary mirage was witnessed recently in Spencer's gulf, South Australia, by officers of the steamship Trevithick, bound to Fremantle.

The display began with the appearance of a ship ahead, of which the smoke and funnels were plainly seen. A little later, between sky and sea, appeared a distorted vessel, like the creation of a mad shipbuilder, possessing neither lines nor any distinct type of construction, upside down, with crazy propellers madly churning the vacant sky.

At one time the display took the form of an inverted picture of dozens of vessels of all sizes, moving in different directions. Then suddenly the ships merged into one.

Officers of the Trevithick declared the phenomenon was the most wonderful in their experience.

FIND JEWELS IN INDIAN MOUND

Shells, Flint and Other Relics Found in Mound at 1000 ft. Level, near the mouth of the Mississippi River.

Chillicothe, O.—A treasure vault of shells and containing 800 fragments of pottery has been dug out of the Hopewell Indian mound, near here, in excavating the last recently, Dr. W. C. Smith, head of the state archaeological survey, declared that the mounds were the first ever found among mound builders' relics.

The gems now are the property of the state. An offer of $15,000 for them was rejected recently. Several of the gems in the string are polished and in excellent condition. The majority are imperfect, however.

At the big Indian mound, near Chillicothe, another valuable find was made when a ceremonial quartz spearhead 14 inches long was dug up. This is the largest spearhead ever found in Ohio. The valuable relic was washed out of the mound on the property of Mrs. Mary Wood. It is in the possession of a state historical society.

Swallowed Radium Needle.

A patient in a Philadelphia hospital swallowed a radium-coated needle with which his doctor was treating his throat. Realizing the danger to the patient if the needle found permanent lodgment, the doctor called a surgeon who immediately performed an operation and recovered the needle. It is said the needle was coated with $2,000 worth of radium.

Injured in Peculiar Manner.

During a snowstorm at Glace Bay, Quebec, a young woman lost an eye in a peculiar manner. She was walking along the street with her head down to protect her face from the wind. She failed to heed a sleigh approaching from the opposite direction and walked right into it, one shaft piercing an eye and knocking her down.

SEEK OFF TO FILM

SOUTH SEA SWIMMER

Adventurers Charter Whaler for Long Cruise to Islands That Are Rarely Visited.

Twenty men, average age forty, have sailed from San Francisco on the old whaler Narwhal for the south seas to fulfill a childhood dream of riches to be gained through adventure. But not by recovery of buried pirate gold or robbery of native pearl divers do they hope to accomplish their purpose.

Their will be a modern way—the motion picture photograph of savage tribes, said to be cannibals. Against the savages' poisoned arrows they are prepared to match the white men's wits and firearms.

Their vessel, the Narwhal, is a three-masted bark. Its tonnage is 522, and length, including bowsprit, is 165 feet. To purchase the boat and supplies the 20 men incorporated themselves, each contributing $500.

Capt. Charles L. Arrey, a member of the corporation, commands. During the war he was a lieutenant commander in the United States navy. The mate and three able seamen are the paid members of the expedition.

The cargo carried by the Narwhal includes two tons of dynamite, considerable gasoline, sacked coal, motion picture films and lumber. One of the crew remarked that in event of disaster they would go up, not down.

The Narwhal will touch first at Honolulu, and then go to Pago Pago, American Samoa, where the dynamite will be delivered to the United States navy. At Atia, British Samoa, the last of the cargo will be discharged.

Leaving Samoa, the Narwhal will set sail for islands seldom visited by white men—lands of romantic legend, of typhoons and cruel deaths. These islands are in the New Caledonia, New Hebrides, Solomon and New Guinea groups.

To obtain pictures of the islands and their people, the Narwhal's crew declared themselves willing to undergo any hardships, and to take any risks. Their vessel will anchor near the shore, and in a power launch a party will go ashore and proceed to the interior. With trinkets they will attempt to conciliate the savages, but if hostility be shown they are prepared to defend themselves with revolvers and rifles.

From the many islands visited the Narwhal is expected to acquire a load of copra. Then, turning northward from the south seas, the island of Guam is to be visited on the return voyage to San Francisco. The cruise will cover approximately 25,000 miles. The president of the corporation is H. J. Richardson, a mechanical engineer, who was in the navy during the war. Thomas J. Watson, secretary, is an insurance man of San Francisco who served in the medical corps in the war.

Others of the crew are Count Vladimir Ayvayaglou, former colonel in the czar's army; Capt. H. C. Billings, formerly of the coast artillery; Hayat L. Hughes, lieutenant in the British flying corps in the war; Murray N. Fay, motion picture man; and Fred C. Lindner, who has explored the south seas and the Malay peninsula.

WOLF BATTLE WITH WOLFEN

Wounded Trapper Was Biting Wolves on Wisconsin Island.

Two large timber wolves attacked Anthony Dale, trapper, while he lay helpless with a sprained ankle on an island about six miles from South Shore railroad at Lake Nebagamon, Wis.

Dale was returning to his home in Lake Nebagamon with the skins of several freshly killed animals in his pack when he slipped into a deep ravine, spraining his ankle. A snarl attracted his attention as a wolf came in sight.

The animal sprang at the hapless man, who defended himself with an ax. In a few moments the wolf's mate joined the fight. Dale threw his lunch to the animals. But as soon as they had devoured it they attacked him again.

Finally Dale mortally wounded one of the beasts. It fled into the woods. The remaining wolf watched Dale, awaiting an opportunity to spring at him.

Shouts for help attracted the attention of John Dagerman, a farmer, who fired several shots at the animal, driving it away. Dale was taken to Dagerman's home, where a physician attended him.

Mother Cat Saved Kitten.

A little kitten fell down a deep well at Oswego, N. Y., and two unsuccessful attempts were made to fish it up in a bucket. Then a policeman had an inspiration. He lowered the mother cat, which immediately seized the drowning kitten by the neck and held on until both had been pulled to the top.

Land's Range Brings Fortune.

The kitchen range from the house of Landru, the French "blackboard" executed for the murder of a dozen women, was sold at auction recently for 4,000 francs ($800). Landru is supposed to have burned the bodies of his victims in the range, originally worth a hundred francs.

JAPAN ADHERE NEW REFORMS

Japanese Court, Bureaucracy and Aristocracy Have Accepted New Reforms.

Tokyo, Japan.—Several important reforms came into effect in Japan proper and Formosa with the opening of 1923. Japanese courts were opened, more up-to-date bankruptcy and arbitration laws became effective and the Japanese civil code, with slight modifications and changes, was put in operation in Formosa.

Baron Kato, the prime minister, in his New Year's message to the people, promised further reforms in administration during the coming year. He said:

"The existing administration system of the country leaves much to be desired and improved. But such improvement should be sought by degrees instead of by leaps and bounds, especially where the system concerns the fundamental structure of society or the very basis of national existence."

Bookmaker Leaves $500,000.

London.—Samuel Gamble, a bookmaker, who died recently, left an estate of $500,000, which he had accumulated in his dealings with folks who play the ponies. He bequeathed his stock of liquor to the medical department of the Baptist Missionary society.

RECLASSIFY PAY OF U. S. WORKERS

Board to Make Comprehensive Survey of Living Costs and Wages.

NEW RATING SYSTEM PLANNED

Salaries of 300,000 government employees in Washington and throughout the nation and outlying possessions are about to be readjusted. The plan involves an entirely new employment policy for the federal government. It is intended to follow an inquiry now beginning by the personnel classification board, created by a special act passed by congress on March 4.

It is the biggest undertaking of the kind ever attempted. Cost of living, rates of pay in corresponding jobs in private employment and standards conforming to the principle of "equal pay for equal work" will be considered by the board in its recommendations to congress.

A questionnaire to develop facts concerning all positions outside of Washington will be sent out in a fortnight. It will go to the customs and immigration services, steamboat inspection, lighthouse, public health, penal institutions, forest, fisheries reclamation, public lands, Indian schools, animal industry, plant industry, weather bureau, mints, ordnance, quartermaster departments, the custodial service—to every branch of the government in every state with the exception of the postal service, which has been classified, and the skilled trades.

Asks Employees to Help.
Acting Chairman Warwick said: "The board is confident it will receive the fullest co-operation from all employees in Washington and in the field in procuring the best results in the time given."

The board has announced it will welcome suggestions from officials, employees and the public in working out the new salary scales which will form the basis of next year's budget.

Once the salary schedules are determined and the allocations of employees made, advancement in salary and position will depend on efficiency rating and qualification. The heads of departments will make the allocations after consultation with the personnel board and in accordance with a uniform procedure prescribed by the latter. The board then must review the allocations before they become final. The board also must review all efficiency rating systems and may revise them as it deems desirable.

"It means an entirely new ideal and if carried out according to the rules it means a square deal for every federal employee," said a statement by the officers of the National Federation of Federal Employees.

"The present rigid, not to say ossified condition of the government pay scale will give way to an elastic system of compensation on the basis of work performed. Where new employees can hope for promotion only if somebody dies or resigns there will be a possibility of advancement in pay as a reward for efficient service on the same job as well as promotion to higher classes of work on showing of qualification.

Transfers Sanctioned.
"The new forbidden transfer between departments at a salary increase will become possible. The whole structure of the government service is lifted from its old foundations and put upon springs, as it were.
"With the personnel classification board's announced policy of seeking the cooperation of the employees themselves and of the public, as well as the government executives, it is possible now to feel, if all hands pull together, that we shall have inaugurated a new era in the public service. The reclassification act launches a new employment policy for the United States government."

Smallest Birds.
The smallest bird is the minute humming bird of South America. Some are little bigger than moths. Despite their small size, they are arrayed in gorgeous plumage. They dart about in sunshine like living flashes of light; so swift are their movements that it is difficult to obtain more than a brief glimpse of them. Sometimes these tiny birds can be studied when they hover above their favorite flower.

The First Power.
When the first electric power station was established in Bolivia the South American Indians thought that the white man was stealing the moon's light and power for his business. There were indignation meetings, which were suppressed only by the gradual understanding by the natives of the great benefit of electricity through this power station.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—puffy, swollen back in your face—dark, sunken spots. Your doctor will tell you surely that out of all sickness comes from the liver and bowels.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound which with olive oil acts on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the natural, vegetable compound, are gentle in their action and always effective. They bring about that natural transparency which all young people should have. They are the only remedy for keeping the liver and bowels in perfect condition.

POOR MENTHER DEAD

William of American Soldier Also Called Trifling as Than of Her Husband.

Washington.—A typewriter poem found on the body of an American soldier killed near St. Etienne, France, proved the means of identifying the body as that of Thomas O'Keefe, Company D, Third Cavalry, which machine gun battalion, Seventy-seventh division.

By tracing the poem to its author and checking over the lists of the Twenty-seventh and Seventy-seventh divisions, someone ultimately found the widow of the missing soldier, who positively identified other articles found on the body.

There were found, in addition to the typewriter poem, a few coins, a book with the pencilled solution, "Nevada Consolidated Copper Company" and "Bill Water Gassette"; also a ring engraved "T. O'K."—All these articles were preserved and the army machinery for identification of the unknown dead in France began its work.

The Painter's Task.

The painter must study more from nature than the man of words. But why? Because literature deals with what we are instinctively obliged to study; but painting with relations of light and color, and significance, and form, which from the immemorial habit of the race, we pass over with unregarding eye.—R. L. Stevenson.

Changes in Calendar Time.

The Athenians began the year in June, the Macedonians in September, the Romans first in March and afterward in January, the Persians on August 11, the ancient Mexicans on February 23, and the Mohammedans in July.

Nothing Worth While.

Harriet had been coaxing for a cookie. After making a thorough search through the cookie jar, she returned empty handed. "Where's the cookie?" asked mother. "Didn't want any," said Harriet. "They're all crumbles."

STUDENT 'SEES' WITH HIS CHEEKS

Carl Bostrom Finds His Way Easily on University Campus.

EACH BUILDING HAS "FEELING"

By Noting Delicate Variations of Air Pressure, Street Sounds, Through Sensitive Nerves of His Face, Is Able to "See" Buildings and Trees, Streets, Doorways, Stairs and the Lake—in Studying to Be Reporter and in Confidence of Success.

Deprived of eyesight, Carl Bostrom, 2340 Clifton avenue, Chicago, has learned to "see" with his cheeks, so that he walks briskly and unaided about the campus of Northwestern university, where he is studying journalism.

The sensitized nerves of his face "see" buildings and trees, streets and the lake, doorways and stairs, by noting delicate variations in air pressure. They respond to faint differences more sensitively than a barometer does. Out of these differences Bostrom has constructed such an accurate mental picture of the campus that he goes about without a guide or a cane.

"Each building has an atmospheric aura all its own," the sightless student said, as he breezed across the campus, guiding a reporter who had expected to guide him. "You recognize buildings by the light rays emanating from them; I know them by their peculiar influences on the air about them. I 'see' them with the nerves of my face."

Northwestern university's campus is easy for him to "see," Bostrom explained, because it lies beside the lake.

"Owing to the water there's a marked difference in the atmospheric pressure at opposite ends of the campus," he said. "The air near the lake is humid, of course. On the other side of the campus it's drier. That makes it easy for me to place myself when I come out of a building."

Nevertheless, Bostrom has trained his facial nerves so well that he doesn't need a nearby lake in order to "see." In Chicago, in the country—anywhere, in fact—he can feel buildings as he passes them, recognize streets, a detect even passing automobiles.

"I'm sure I'll be able to get about as a reporter, even though I'm blind," he said. "I'm determined to be a newspaper man. That's why I'm sticking so hard to college."

Bostrom has to familiarize himself with a locality, of course, before he is able to find his way unerringly. He must memorize the peculiar "feel" of each building.

He had to make a mental map, keeping in mind the "appearance" of each of the many buildings of the 51-acre campus.

Each Building Has "Feeling."

That was easy, he says, because each building has a feeling all its own. Stones give the air a quality unlike that of brick; frame buildings are unlike any others; store fronts, with a great deal of plate glass, have a peculiar "look" to the man who "sees" with his cheeks, and different building heights make differences in the air.

Entering one of the buildings a step ahead of the reporter who was accompanying him, Bostrom found the steps without hesitation, took the doorknob without fumbling for it, and walked straight to his classroom.

"There's a stairway," he remarked, pointing, "and there's an open door. Over yonder is a radiator. That's easy, of course, and there's a closed door right there." He was invariably right.

Storms are Bostrom's only bogies. They "blind" his cheeks. Snow is the worst, with rain a close second. On days when the air is full of snow or rain the blind man's cheeks can't "see." On such days he has to rely on his memory of the number of steps required to go from one building to another.

"But when you count 'em, such days aren't many," he said. "Most of the time I can 'see' easily."

Armor to Protect Paris Police.

A rectangular sheet of steel to protect the face and armor made of sheets of steel overlapping on heavy cloth will be worn by police of Paris, France, when they go to arrest dangerous criminals. The garment covers the entire front of the body and is capable of deflecting a pistol bullet fired at the closest range.

Taxicab Bode Cheaper Than Hotels.

Taxicabs are being hired for the night in Vienna, Austria, where hotel prices are sky-high. As a shelter for the night, a taxicab may be rented cheaply in any part of the town. Service of a driver is not included, however.

Could Not Survive Injury.

An old subscriber to New Brunswick, while reading a short time ago, was reminded of a cow his father owned that would lick at the hay through the board partition that divided her off from a horse. In the morning they found the cow had been bitten and lost about a half-inch of her tongue. Although it healed up, it was found necessary to butcher the animal.—Montreal Weekly World.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" MADE FROM FRUIT

Intensified Juices of Oranges, Apples, Figs and Pines

Combined With Tablets

In overeating disease and making the sick well, "Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Laxo Tablets" get their name and unusual powers from the method of combining the fruit juices.

This process was discovered by a physician and perfected by him after hundreds of tests.

By this discovery, the juices of apples, oranges, figs and pines are concentrated and combined with tablets in such a manner that the medicinal action of the fruit juices are made much more active and valuable.

SAILOR LIVED IN BOILER SINCE 1906 EARTHQUAKE

San Francisco Policeman Rescues Old Man From Flames and Home Is Found.

John McKenzie, a retired sea captain, and a patrolman named Callahan are in a San Francisco hospital, reported recovering from burns which the policeman suffered when he went out flames from McKenzie's clothing in time to save the old man from fatal injury. With the rescue was heard an old, remote echo of the great earthquake and fire of 1906.

McKenzie caught fire accidentally and rushed out into the street, where the policeman saved him. Later, at the hospital, McKenzie described his home and policeman, curious, looked it up. The dwelling was situated in the middle of a vacant lot for many years given over to a vast assortment of junk. It was nothing more than a large boiler. Within were a few modern comforts—a mattress, a blanket, even an old bathtub.

McKenzie said he was caught in a maelstrom of relief work when most of the city was burning in 1906. For three days, he explained, he had no rest. Then, immeasurably weary, he crawled in among some junk, making his bed on bricks still warm from the fire. Ever since he had lived thus on the border line of progress—until fire, which drove him from the civilization at his elbow, thrust him back into it.

KNITTING CHAMP CAN'T WRITE

Irish Woman Completes Jumper in 25 Hours and 25 Minutes.
The world's knitting champion is an Irish woman who cannot speak English or write a line—and she does not plan to make a lecture tour of the United States.
She is just plain Mrs. McShane of Garrick, County Donegal, Ireland, and until a few weeks ago had never been on a train.
Mrs. McShane, despite these few deficiencies, won the first prize of a 50-guinea cup and £50 in a knitting contest with hundreds of other women, recently held in one of London's largest department stores. She was the first to complete a jumper in 25 hours and 25 minutes. The second prize was given to a young girl who completed the work in 61 hours.

Life's Handicaps.

STATE PARK IDEA SPREADING FAST

Movement for Open Play Spaces Has Taken Remarkable Hold Within Past Few Years.

LITTLE KNOWN ABOUT THEM

State Parks Are Pocket Editions of Our Great National Park System —Many Planned to Preserve Historic Places.

What do you know about your state parks?

Washington—What is a state park? Announcement that the third annual conference of state parks will be held at Turkey Run state park, Indiana, May 7, 8 and 9, gives rise to the question.

"You will search most reference books in vain for any information about state parks, an important fact that every thinking American citizen should know," says a bulletin from the National Geographic society, "though there you will find ample mention of national parks and city parks."

"State parks are pocket editions of our great national park system. They are the stop-over places of the motorist."

"They park on barren peaks and preserve tree-hollowed lovers' lanes beside running brooks."

"They take in such shrines as Lincoln's birthplace and James Whitcomb Riley's 'old swimmin' hole.'"

"They perpetuate far older history than that to be found in history textbooks. Starved Rock park, Illinois, commemorates the time when America's inland was a sea; when the cosmic happenings of millions of years ago deposited the shells and precipitated the lime which formed the magnesium limestone layer of this region."

"Prairie Land to Fairyland."

"Iowa invited its citizens to an hour's auto ride from 'prairie land to fairyland.'"

"In Wisconsin, you can rent an island for $10 a year."

"State parks save the open play spaces amid dense populations of the East and they keep out encroaching farm lands of the Middle West."

"Rip Van Winkle sought spouse in skittles from a shrewish spouse, in the city man today, harried by a hundred worries, can take wife and children for a 48-hours' rest to the hills where Rip retreated."

"If this sounds like rhapsody—that's what state parks still afford to routine-ridden city dwellers."

"Our own parks bear evidence of our new governmental ideal. Originally a park was Noah's Ark."

"An inclosed piece of ground stocked with beasts of the chase, held by prescription or the king's grant."

"Today a park might be defined as an uninclosed piece of ground stocked with beasts, not to be chased, or killed, held by prescription of the people for their own use."

"Nobody knows exactly how many state parks there are in 1923. Two years ago a survey by the national park service showed that 29 states had state parks. The movement has taken such a hold within the last few years that the park area within those states has expanded materially and other states have embarked upon park programs."

"Niagara falls is nationally known as scenery, and also as a controversy, but, in the history of the park movement, Niagara is a precedent."

"Hartford has a park which is an early example of the best sort of civic publicity and also established a park precedent. Search your memory and see whether you have not forgotten most of the statistics and slogans which greet you upon huge signboards placed along the railway tracks by trade bodies of many enterprising cities. But nobody who has entered Hartford by train, in daylight, is likely to forget the sylvan beauty of Bushnell park, which adjoins the station with the tree-shaded Connecticut capitol building set on its central hill."

"Horace Bushnell worked for five years to persuade his neighbors to tax themselves to buy this tract. Thus Bushnell park is a monument marking the first time in history when the people bought a tract with their own money to be used as a public park."

A Reversal of Purpose.
"Exactly opposite to the days when feudal barons used a park to keep the public out is the era when the essential element of a park is that King Auto and Sovereign Pedestrian must have easy access. Colorado proclaims that she has a motorist's camp in every town of a thousand or more people. Iowa avers that she has more camp sites per capita than any other state."

"New York, with 40 reservations comprising 210,000 acres, heads the list of states in the extent of her park system."

"Turkey Run state park, Indiana, where the coming conference will be held, is a last stand of the primeval forest which once covered practically all the Hoosier state. It is especially rich in the yellow poplar or tulip tree of Indiana, the sycamore and the black walnut. It has a modern hotel, electrically equipped, modern plumbing and a gramophone system."

Lost in the Fog.
During foggy weather, a search for lost vehicles within the station, caught in the fog, and extinguished the light."

Monotony.
"Love" says an Australian critic, "is a succession of beautiful pictures; each one the same old wall paper."—Boston Transcript.

GETS FATTER DAY BY DAY

Doctors Don't Aid Toronto Man Who Tries to Be Thin.
Day by day in every way John Wilfred Calhoun of Toronto, Ont., continues to expand. Recently he tipped the scales at 427 pounds and was visibly growing fatter despite his efforts to reduce.
Calhoun is thirty-two years old and formerly served in the Second Canadian battalion. When he found himself growing fat out of all proportion he sought medical advice.
The doctors put him on a diet of weak tea, crackers and cereal, but John thrived with all the supposed activity of a man on a diet of porterhouse steaks and oysters.
A circus manager hearing of Calhoun's plight offered him a position as "Fat Man" but he turned it down. He does not want to go on exhibition; he wants to get thin.
To Clean Upholstery.
Upholstery may be dry cleaned by brushing with a benzine soap solution and then sponging in clear benzine. This is better than using ammonia water, as so many housekeepers do, for in time the material is attacked.

Beauty Easily Forgiven.
A correspondent tells of a business man who has the portrait of his beautiful stenographer on his office stationery. "It is there," he explains, "to counteract the effect of her spelling and punctuation."

Ruhr Sabotage That Foils the French

The most intelligent sabotage performed by the Germans to block shipment of Ruhr coal to France is shown in this photo of a sunken coal barge at Prosper-Haumont in the Rhine-Herne canal. The barge, flying the old Imperial German flag, prevents French use of this most important canal in the Ruhr. The barge was broken in two and the French engineers report that it is impossible to move it without filling the canal with coal.

WOMEN AND THE TAXES

Over Twenty Per Cent of Tax Returns by New York State Residents for 1922 Made Independently by Women.

Albany, April 11.—What part does the "independent" woman of means take in meeting the tax obligation of the state?

This question is answered insofar as the state income tax is concerned in a collection of data made public today by the state tax commission. These figures show the 20.4 per cent of the returns made by New York state residents for the calendar year 1922 were made independently by women. Officials of the commission believe that the percentage will be at least as high for this year's income tax, which is now being collected and must be paid by April 15.

The figures made public today are the latest available. They are based on returns made in 1921 for income during 1920, and the information contained in these returns has been carefully tabulated and analyzed by the commission. The figures show that there were 1,689,129 returns from New York state residents. Of these, single women not heads of families, made 122,717 returns; married women made 29,813; and unmarried women as heads of families made 28,667 returns. Adding these three classes of returns which composed the returns from "independent" women, the figures show that there were 222,002 such returns, or 20.4 per cent of the total number filed.

The women filing separate returns paid 16.5 per cent of the total tax from New York state residents, or $5,108,972. It was divided among the three classes as follows:

Single women not heads of families, $2,742,862.

Married women making separate returns, $1,959,739.

Heads of families unmarried women, $296,471.

This tax paid by the women was based on taxable income amounting to $378,921,506, or 15.1 per cent of the total taxable income of New York state residents which amounted to $2,512,225,909. The taxable income was divided as follows among the three classes:

Single women not heads of families, $266,336,306.

Married women making separate returns, $157,621,199.

Heads of families unmarried women, $73,164,100.

Among the single women not heads of families there were 195 who reported incomes amounting to $100,000 and over, who paid a total tax of $743,475. There were 114 married women making separate returns who reported income of $100,000 and over, and 15 unmarried women heads of families reporting income in that class.

In the case of single women not heads of families, income from personal services represented by far the largest percentage of taxable income amounting to 62 per cent of the total taxable income. Unmarried women as heads of families reported almost the same percentage of taxable income coming from this source, namely 61.5. In the case of married women making separate returns, however, dividend income represented the largest source of income.
